Join us for the Women's Clergy Retreat where we will seek nourishment together through the wisdom Jacquie, our retreat leader, will bring to the table.

• Retreat Leader Rev. Jacquie Church-Young has spent her career nourishing multiple churches in the Penn Central Conference, the youth of the Leadership Now program, and students at Lancaster Theological Seminary as an adjunct professor. Currently, she finds nourishment by caring for herself and her family, while also working at her children's school in Derwood, MD. Avid baker and self-proclaimed foodie, Jacquie understands food to be sacred in our lives, as an important connection to the divine and one another. We are excited to seek nourishment together through the wisdom Jacquie will bring to the table.

• Professional massages will be an option for those who wish to pay for them additionally. Booking email will be sent out closer to date of event.

• Accommodations for single rooms or rooms on the first floor are available upon request for special circumstances. Please contact the Planning Team by emailing: hkkimberly@sbcglobal.net
